Most DEDICATED Conference Focusing on China's burgeoning commercial aviation industry

- China Commercial Aircraft Summit 2010 received overwhelming support from the commercial aviation and aerospace industry.
- We brought together in Shanghai 300+ industry professionals representing 100+ Chinese and international companies driving the commercial aviation industry for a series of informal and collegial discussions.
- China Commercial Aircraft Summit 2010 has become a unparalleled platform for Chinese and international aerospace manufacturers to schedule meetings with each other annually.
- Many of the participants takes China Commercial Aircraft Summit 2010 as the unmissable occasion to keep updated on developments and trends of China's commercial aviation industry through informative presentations, panel discussions and 1-on-1 meetings.

We are so proud that 4/5 of the attendees would like to come back again for 2011 summit.
